

Black Men's Therapy Group

FACILITATOR: ORSON A. MORRISON, PSY.D.
LICENSED CLINICAL PSYCHOLOGIST, ASSOCIATE DIRECTOR

This is a group therapy experience for students who identify as male and as Black/of African descent. This is a space to share experiences related to various parts of our identities such as being a student, a man, or someone who identifies as Black.

Topics covered in the group might include (but are not limited to): navigating academia, race-related stress, family relationships, intimate partner relationships, healthy masculinity, adjusting to college, self-care and healing.

Starts: Week of Sept 22nd
Meets: Fridays @ 12:00 pm
Lincoln Park Campus
